

Sarah E. Russell, CPA, MBA

Shareholder

srussell@claytonmckervervey.com | +1.248.208.8860

Joining the firm in 2000, Sarah is a shareholder and point person for international tax strategies at Clayton & McKervervey. She helps business owners and executive teams with international tax consulting and compliance, looking for big-picture solutions to advise clients on global operational structuring, foreign tax credit utilization, and tax treaty analysis. Sarah works with both domestic companies expanding internationally, and foreign-owned companies from Germany, Canada, Brazil, China, France, Italy, Mexico, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom. She values the opportunity to collaborate with both accountants and tax specialists globally on behalf of our clients.

Specializations

- » Inbound/outbound investments
- » International tax consulting and compliance
- » Structuring operations globally
- » Foreign tax credit utilization
- » Mergers, acquisitions and reorganizations
- » Expatriate taxation withholding, tax planning and compliance
- » Tax treaty analysis

Education

- » Masters of Business Administration, Wayne State University
- » Bachelor of Science in Accounting, University of Michigan – Dearborn

Related Insights & Presentations

- » Top 5 Questions about the Foreign Tax Compliance Act (FATCA)
- » 5 Low-Tax Jurisdiction Strategies for Small- and Medium-Sized Businesses
- » Reward Your Business with the Domestic Production Activities Deduction
- » IRS Changes the Streamlined Filing Compliance Procedures and Offshore Voluntary Disclosure Program
- » Outbound International Filings
- » IRS Releases Final Regulations Affecting the Net Investment Income Tax

Connections in the Business Community

- » German American Chamber of Commerce
- » Robotics Industries Association
- » Automation Alley
- » PrimeGlobal