International Tax

Eric is key to the firm's China practice and is passionate about sharing his knowledge of both the United States and China to help companies smoothly expand to the US market. Fluent in Mandarin, he works not only with Chinese companies but also with a variety of foreign inbound and outbound clients to ensure that foreign filings are in compliance. Joining the firm in 2014, Eric also works with international clients on withholding taxes related to the specific tax treaties of each country.
